FALSE CLAIM BY FOREIGN REMOTE GAMING COMPANY

The Lotteries and Gaming Authority would like to bring to your attention that a foreign remote gaming company by the name of Poker Ducks is claiming that it is being located in Malta and therefore winnings for EU citizens are tax free.

The Authority would like to inform the public at large that the above statement is not true. Pokerducks.com has no connection whatsoever with the Maltese jurisdiction.

The LGA strictly advises the public to play responsibly with companies licensed with reputable jurisdictions who have sound remote gaming regulations.
